Abstract. This paper starts with the theory of the ideal belief among the undergraduates. This paper analyzes the realistic situation and the necessity to educate the moral idea and socialist belief. This paper dissects the inner connection between the central value and the education of the ideal belief in a deep way and it has explored the new ways to strengthen the ideal belief education to the students in the universities.

The students in the universities are the hope and the future for our nation, and they will be the constructors and the successors of the socialist enterprise in China. Whether or not the undergraduates have the positive and healthy ideal belief can reflect the outcome of the political education in a direct way. And it also reflects the outcome of the socialist harmonious culture construction. At the present time, the main stream of the students’ thoughts are positive, and healthy and progressive, but with the factors of the social environment, the education in the universities and the students themselves, part of the students presence some phenomenon such as lost in the belief, desalt of the political opinion and so on. It is inconsistent with the harmonious society such as pay attention to their own dream and idea but ignore the common idea, pay attention to their own value but ignore the social value, and even value their own benefit but desalt the community’s benefits, or they only concern the moral construction but lack of the sense of loyalty.

The Current Situation of the Undergraduates’ Ideal Belief

The ideal belief is the spiritual essence for people, and it is the gigantic power to create fine life continuously. Scientific ideal belief is the push power to motivate the undergraduates learn how to become a kind man, how to walk the life way, and encourage them how to try their best to study well The main stream of the students’ thoughts are healthy and correct, however, there are some matters as the following:

They Are So Emotional towards the Ideal Position That They Can Not Deal With the Relationship between the Personal Idea and the Social’s

On the one hand, when they construct their own dream of the Young man, they will be full of hope. And there will be many uncertain factors because they have too much imagination about their future. In the end, the process of represent by themselves are wonderful and emotional. On the other hand, undergraduates lack of the analysis and the practical support to the imagination of their ideal life. Usually, they will tend to portray the nice things while they will ignore the difficulty during the process. So they should deal with the relationship between the personal idea and the society’s idea well.
It is the elementary relationship and elementary contradiction between the person and the society, and it decides the relationship between the personal idea and the society’s. In the relationship, the society’s idea is the dominant part, and it guides the basic direction for the personal idea. Only the scientific and lofty social idea could combine the harmony between the social and personal idea, the personal idea could be realized in a better way. And the social idea is the base of the personal, only in the fertile soil and in the direction of the society, people could have their own correct direction, and their own idea could come true.

Personal idea is the materialization of the social idea, and it is the alive material to construct the social idea, it is also the approach to realize the social idea. In the absent of a personal idea, the social idea will become pale and barren. It needs the support and supplement of the personal idea for the social idea, if it fails, the social idea will become too far remote to reach. Only the combination of the personal and the social idea could make the social idea come true. Therefore, we should combine the two factors of the society and person, and combine the devotion spirit to the county, to the community and the personal value and the benefit. Only by doing so, personal idea could have a profound social base and a enduring vitality.

We should the following parts if we want to hold the uniformity between the personal and social idea.

We should really understand the essence of the social idea. There are three main topics in the present time, rich, justice and harmony. If we want to achieve our personal idea, we must insist the consistency between the idea and the three main three topics, and also we should make a principal for ourselves as our guide direction.

We should realize that all of us are devoting ourselves to the society. Whether the power is strong or not and whether the ability is big or not. So it is our duty do our best for the society, to be the best yourself and strive for a better platform to work so that we can release more energy. And it is the only way to achieve the coherence of the social idea and the personal idea.

People should pay attention to the feedback from the society and value them. We never do the things that people oppose or hate. And it is the essential requirement to guarantee the social idea and personal one.

Lost in Belief, Lacking of Political Thoughts and Short of Loyal Consciousness

The current students live in a sole child family, so all of the families love the only one child. Eventually, they will develop life conviction that he is the center in the world, and when they grow up, they will value their own benefit while they will not consider things for others. Even they are short of the character of loyalty and cooperation. And their thoughts are fragile and willpower is weak. And the ability to struggle with the frustration is weak and the ability to reply risk is not strong enough. So their willpower are too frail. Furthermore, their individualism will expand, selfish consciousness will extend too. The outcome is the lost of their own belief. It has become a common social phenomenon from a small group. If we do not take any action to stop it, the damage it will cause will be so horrible and inestimable.

The youth in china not only enjoy the rich material condition but also experience the multi effect in the thoughts field caused by the social transformation. The difference between the elder generation who suffered the planned economy and the present generation. The present generation only pay attention to the fashion and popular elements in the world, and it is different of the multi value and life value for the two generations. All of the phenomenon could cause one result that their lost in belief and loyalty and even ignorance of the political thoughts.
These years, with all kinds of trend of culture, the multi internet information and the loss of ideal belief for the Chinese communist party leaders, there are severe negative effects to the students, especially the university students. The university students are the main power to construct the country, they burden the mission of the destiny of the nation, but there are part of the students shake their thoughts of the belief, and the value become twisty, so they are listed in the lost generation. The 18th CPC national Congress just like the first light of morning to summon for us to help us realize the future direction. We should educate people to learn the socialist core view especially in the universities.

Significance of the Ideal and Belief Study among the Undergraduates

To carry out the study about the ideal and belief among the undergraduates is not only the requirement of education in the current time but also the demand of their own development. At the meantime, it is very important for the construction of the socialist society.

It Is Very Important for the Undergraduates to Study the Idea and Belief

It is the core of the education about the thoughts and politics, and it is the mental base for the undergraduates to form their scientific idea towards the world, the life and the value. So, people who works in the education field must realize the significance and the importance to educate the students in the universities to learn the ideality and belief. They should insist the focus of the socialist value system and center on the contents of the system to seek for a new way to promote the education of the ideality and belief. And to carry out the process. Eventually, the basic content of the social core value system will become the automatic action for the undergraduates.

For the university students, they should be good at absorbing the nutrition about the Marx’s thoughts content in china and they should set up the scientific thoughts towards the world, they should master the correct opinions about methods and they should cultivate the spirits of criticism. Students who are in universities should insist the independent character to become the vanguard of exploration and innovation. The ideal belief should be the life goal for the undergraduates because it can give them confidence, courage and perseverance. The final aim of the education about the ideal belief is to guide the undergraduates to make up correct opinions towards life, the world and value. Whether the ideal belief correct or not will decide their future and development.

The current undergraduates live in a complicated social environment, they will face all kinds of fickle social influence and all kinds of pressure from the economy and the job and the mental and thinking pressure in their life and study. If there are no great idea nor firm belief in their mind, they will be likely to meet difficulty to solve the difficulties in their life and gradually they will become passive to decadence and they will not make progress. While if they have the great idea and firm belief, they will produce great spiritual motivation, and they will realize and consider issues correctly. And they can go forward to their established idea and goal direction. Thus, the ideal belief is the spiritual brace for the current undergraduates to defeat all kinds of difficulties and challenges, and it is the internal requirement to develop themselves roundly and grow up in a healthy way. Therefore, the current undergraduates should erect lofty idea and firm belief, so they can overcome all kinds of difficulties in their life, and they should strive to become the talents that needed by the country and the society.
The Significance to the Social of Ideal Belief Education to Undergraduates

Deng Xiaoping said that “there is peaceful revolution in the imperialist society, our predecessor leave hope with us, the following generations. We, the generation people are very important. There is no force can change the fact. But who can ensure the outcome if the old people complain all the day?” So, Deng emphasized that “we should educate our military well and educate our government well and also educate the Chinese communist party member well and even to educate the people and the youth well.” Since the 18th CPC National Congress, central authority has paid attention to cultivate and carry out the socialist central value system. Xi Jinping president has made important discussion and put forward specific requirements for many times. The socialist central value is the core of the socialist central value system, because it can embody the fundamental qualities and basic features, and also it is the essence and the expression of the system, and it is the strict demand for everyone.

There will be millions of university students graduate from their university, and no matter which field such as the agricultural technology, and manufacturing business, the service field and the civil servant, we can see the university graduates. They has abundant theoretical knowledge, advanced yielding technology and the most advanced consciousness, so they are the great potential in our country. The graduates are the sustainable strength in our society, and they are the future of our country. The development of our nation need this kind of elevated spirit and noble character. Graduates is a group that owns the most advanced thoughts, it can maintain the unity of our country and it has great importance to promote the development of our society and economy, and even it can promote the comprehensive strength of our country.

Ways to Educate the Undergraduates of the Socialist Core Value System

The Background and the Contents of the Socialist Central Value System

Today, with the leader of the Chinese communist, the Chinese special enterprise is in the ascendant. It is our common dream to walk the Chinese special socialist road and achieve the revive of the Chinese nation. But what is the difference of the value goal and value orientation between the Chinese special socialism and the classic socialism? And what’s the difference of the value essence between Chinese special socialism and the current dominating capitalist country? This is the major question to answer for the Chinese special socialist theory. The proposal of the socialist central value system is the timely answer to the great issues. The condense and presence of the socialist central value system is not only the necessary requirement to the socialist construction and the reformation history and the reality development and also it is the requirement to answer the current complicated situation in the overall reformation background and the demand of the age. It is the demand for all of us to study and carry out the socialist central value system for the purpose of consolidating our common thoughts ground because it is the fundamental premise for a party, a country and a nation to live and develop themselves. There are “three proposals” in the eighteenth representative of people’s meeting, which is to propose a prosperous, democratic, civilized and harmonious country, a free, equal, just and jural society and a patriotic, professional faithful and friendly citizen. We should cultivate the socialist central value system, it is the newest conclusion to the system.
Ways for the Undergraduates to Study the Socialist Core Value System

To value the theoretical study in order to enhance the construction of the thoughts. The mental and the political education workers should unify to the construction of the socialist core value system to enforce its attraction, persuasion influence and its seepage force. They should discuss equally, and convince people by reasoning but not expound something mechanically emptily. They should catch the crucial reason from the people's real thoughts and give argument that make pointed references. It should respect the difference and tolerate the diversity to make a harmonious society. We should try our best to form a vivid situation that all the people of one mind to construct a harmonious great society. The workers who work in the university should encourage students speak out their opinions freely. We advocate diversity and we carry out the principle that swallow anything and everything, we have the common point but we respect the difference, we live in a harmonious society though we have difference. We should pour the thoughts into the students’ mind that we can learn from others and communicate with others, by practicing and form a common sense.

The Combination of the Belief Function and the Behavior Function

Education workers should consider the character of the university students, and they should insist the way to combine theoretical learning and independent learning, encourage students to arrange study meeting, discussion meeting and fellowship activity to study. and also students should be encouraged to use the media, report and training for the leaders and other material that can help them. Teachers should establish some undergraduate’s forum in the political field according to the character of the mental undergraduates, especially their character while surfing the internet. Teachers can also establish a platform that make students and teachers communicate with each other. Teachers should use the internet to cultivate the enthusiasm and attract their attention. And also they can use the forum and the chatting rooms to pay attention to the hot pots and difficult problems that students concern in order to realize students’ mental motivation. In the end, teachers hope that the socialist central value system should be sensed, agreed, accepted by the students, and students should really study, understand, believe and use them, and also students should use the system to conduct to the reality, students should not only strengthen their inner function and also make them the automatic action. Teachers should guide students devote themselves to the great Chinese special enterprise.

Undergraduates Should Go Out from their University by Practical Action and Go Into the Central System

Teachers should encourage students learn the theoretical knowledge, build the service consciousness. students are required to pay attention to the hot and difficult point that all the people concern, and they are required to base on the service work to advocate that people should concern and love each other, and serve for the society. The general public base should strengthened in the socialist central value system.

Students Should Inherit and Develop the Excellent Character and Tradition Created by the Precedent People

The precedent people had a long revolution journey, and they formed great political belief, nice tradition and noble personality through the socialist development and reformation. So it is the political wealth. undergraduates should study and carry out the socialist central value system, and form this point, they should accept the leadership position willingly to dedicate the united struggling spirits to the special Chinese socialist enterprise.

Conclusion

With the international terrain of economic globalization and political multiple forces, Chinese universities still are the leading position in the struggle with western hostile forces to fight for the students’ thoughts. At the meantime, the education of the ideal belief to the undergraduates is the soul and core of the political education work in the universities. Universities are the roads to cultivate the values for the students, and it is a systematic project and also a long-term mission. All of us should strengthen and take practice with perseverance.

The system is not a closed nor invariable one, but a continuous developing with the practice system. There is no end for the practice and there is no end for the socialist central value system to explore and blaze new trails. We should pour the socialist central value system into their mind by the practical with the international and national changeable situation and increase and develop the new details of the system. We should try our best to construct a harmonious society and the nation’s revive and provide a firm mental brace and motivation continuously.
