The concept of rule of law and the concept of common ground, but the main difference with these concepts is that the concept of the rule of law is implied in the rule of law, the rule of law itself on the most basic and most important cognitive. The rule of law, the rule of law based on the rule of law itself, with a strong objectivity, regularity; the rule of law awareness, the rule of law, the rule of law thinking, the rule of law and the concept of the rule of law. The rule of law, rule of law, the rule of law and the ideal of rule by law are based on the social subject, emphasizing the subjective cognition of the social subject, and have strong subjectivity. Second, the objectivity of the rule of law principle is stronger than the rule of law, more specific than the rule of law. Although the principle than the rules of abstraction, but both contain "is", the "standard" means. In the legal text, rules, principles, but both are apparent, the idea is often hidden. Third, the spirit of the rule of law abstraction than the concept of a higher level. Spirit is a highly abstract concept of philosophy, the spirit of the rule of law is an anthropomorphic argument, refers to the rule of law is indispensable to reflect the rule of law the inherent strength of the state. The abstraction of the rule of law in a higher level is the rule of law. Fourth, the concept of rule of law concept than the rule of law, the rule of law a more in-depth, more focused, more stable. Ideas and consciousness are both sensible and rational, and the idea is directed only toward reason. Concept and consciousness vary from person to person, a variety of ideas are quite general, concise and stable. Fifth, the concept of the rule of law is less than the theory of the rule of law, the rule of law thinking system comprehensive. In general, theory and thought are systematized. The concept of rule of law emphasizes concise, incisive, although systematic, but the system is far less than the rule of law theory, the rule of law, its framework, the content is not like the rule of law, the rule of law as rich and comprehensive. Sixth, the concept of the rule of law content than the rule of law is more abundant. The ideal of the rule of law mainly emphasizes the rule of law, which of course is reflected in the concept of the rule of law, but the concept of rule of law is not limited to reflect the ideal of rule by law. Seventh, the concept of rule of law is less than the rule of law, faith in the rule of law clear. There is no difference in the belief in the rule of law and the belief in the rule of law. They have the distinctiveness and uniqueness of the rule of law as the ideal and the goal. People often discuss whether there is no rule of law or belief in the rule of law, faith in the rule of law or the rule of law is firm, and not too much to discuss the rule of law and faith, the specific content of the rule of law. Eighth, the concept of rule of law and the rule of law thinking patterns are different. The concept of the rule of law, like the political idea and the humanistic concept, is a highly generalization of the things themselves. Rule of law thinking refers to the rule of law as a stand, perspective, framework, a way of thinking, in this process will be applied to the rule of law, rule of law, rule of law theory and other materials.
